Attention: Mr. Les Edel

Dear Sir:

I write in reference to the renovations to our premises which your company has recently completed.

Rarely have I had a more satisfactory experience with a building contractor.

Not only was the work well done, but the trades you selected were excellent and did quality work; but the manner in which the work was carried out is really the reason that I am writing.

I expected that we would get a top flight job, because we negotiated for that and we paid for it, but what we received in addition was outstanding cooperation and people who went more than the extra mile to see that everything was completed to our satisfaction.

I wanted to be sure to write and to indicate how pleased we were with your services and to tell you that we would be only too happy to recommend you to others and invite you to use us as a reference for you at any time.

Yours truly,

WILDER, WILDER AND LANGTRY
